

ESF 10

ENTREPRENEURIAL STRENGTHSFINDER®

BRICE IKOUEBE

YOUR ENTREPRENEURIAL STRENGTHS PROFILE

Gallup identified the 10 talents of highly successful entrepreneurs. This report presents the intensity of your entrepreneurial talents in rank order.

This report does not determine whether you should start a business, but rather how you can apply your talents most effectively in an entrepreneurial endeavor.

Entrepreneurship is the art of turning an idea into a customer.

You can use entrepreneurial talents to start or grow a business. Alternatively, you can apply these talents while working for an employer or pursuing higher education.

Use this report to focus on your dominant talents. Seek support and partnerships for your contributing and supporting talents, which will improve your potential for success in an entrepreneurial role.

-  Confidence
-  Risk-Taker
-  Delegator
-  Determination
-  Creative Thinker
-  Knowledge-Seeker
-  Relationship-BUILDER
-  Promoter
-  Independent
-  Business Focus

 Dominant:
You have a high level of this talent. You consistently and naturally lead with this talent to achieve success.

 Contributing:
You show some evidence of this talent. You must deliberately apply this talent to achieve success.

 Supporting:
You do not lead with this talent. You should reinforce this talent with partnerships and support from others to achieve success.

ESF 10 ENTREPRENEURIAL STRENGTHSFINDER®

BRICE IKOUEBE

■ Dominant

■ Contributing

■ Supporting

CONFIDENCE

Definition: People who are especially talented in the Confidence talent are keenly aware of their abilities. They harness this awareness to take quick and decisive action. They seize opportunities knowing they will succeed and use their talents to persist in the face of uncertainty and failure.

Your Talent: You likely have a clear and accurate appreciation of your actions and abilities. You use this awareness to build trust with and have influence on others. You use your talents to build relationships with people who can help you achieve your business goals.

RISK-TAKER

Definition: People who are especially talented in the Risk-Taker talent embrace challenges with enthusiasm. They have a strong, charismatic, and confident personality. They naturally focus on the rewards of success instead of potential failure. They emotionally connect with customers and exceed their expectations.

Your Talent: You likely show enthusiasm and positivity when taking on challenges. You are ambitious and charismatic. Your self-confidence allows you to see past barriers and assume success. Harness these traits to set and accomplish your business goals.

DELEGATOR

Definition: People who are especially talented in the Delegator talent can trust and empower others to help grow their business. They know what their employees do best and position them to take responsibility for tasks at which they are most likely to excel. They can relinquish control and focus on growing the business.

Your Talent: You likely understand that for your business to be successful, you cannot do everything yourself. You appreciate the importance of teamwork. You tend to identify special abilities in other people and work well with them in a way that contributes to the success of the business.

DETERMINATION

Definition: People who are especially talented in the Determination talent pursue their goals with tenacity. They are intensely committed to success and are eager to take quick action. They rely on high motivation to turn adversity into opportunity. They can see beyond roadblocks and visualize a better future.

Your Talent: You can take on challenges aggressively. But oftentimes, you delay taking action to think through your options. Create a plan to have in place ahead of time so that you can act quickly when the time is right. This type of planning will help you achieve your business goals.

CREATIVE THINKER

Definition: People who are especially talented in the Creative Thinker talent have a curious intellect that helps them constantly imagine new products, services, and solutions. They are quick learners who explore various options and consider novel solutions as they anticipate the future needs of their customers.

Your Talent: You are likely to enjoy indulging in thoughtful exploration and learning. You might hesitate to ask questions that can lead to the right answer or the best possible solution for your business. Learn about new ideas and share your perspectives with others to expand your creativity.

ESF 10 ENTREPRENEURIAL STRENGTHSFINDER®

BRICE IKOUEBE

■ Dominant

■ Contributing

■ Supporting

KNOWLEDGE-SEEKER

Definition: People who are especially talented in the Knowledge-Seeker talent understand that information is a valuable asset. They have a deep desire to acquire knowledge about all aspects of their business. They search for new information to solve problems and succeed in complex business environments.

Your Talent: You tend to try to understand problems or challenges when they arise instead of proactively seeking information about all areas of your business. Challenge yourself to learn more about your business. Don't be afraid to ask people for help finding answers to questions about your business.

RELATIONSHIP-BUILDER

Definition: People who are especially talented in the Relationship-BUILDER talent have strong interpersonal skills that allow them to build a robust and diverse personal network. They rely on relationships to access resources and information essential to the success of their business.

Your Talent: You are at your best when your positive attitude shines outward. Meet people and convey your authentic enthusiasm to help you create mutually beneficial relationships. Creating and sustaining such partnerships is crucial to the success of your business.

PROMOTER

Definition: People who are especially talented in the Promoter talent speak boldly on behalf of their company. They consistently communicate a clear vision of their business to customers and employees. They are great salespersons with an ability to form deep relationships and convince others to follow their well-defined business growth strategy.

Your Talent: You tend to use a more subtle approach to promote your business. This method works well as long as you are committed to it. Be open to working with people who support your ideas and efforts and who can communicate boldly on behalf of your business.

INDEPENDENT

Definition: People who are especially talented in the Independent talent can single-handedly start and operate a business. They rely on high energy and extreme commitment to succeed in the grueling grind of business creation. They firmly believe their actions decide the fate of their business and are motivated to make things happen.

Your Talent: You likely understand the power of good teamwork combined with your own abilities. It is important to rely on the people you trust to achieve your business goals. Avoid situations where you have to make a last-minute business decision without considering others' opinions.

BUSINESS FOCUS

Definition: People who are especially talented in the Business Focus talent couple sharp business instincts and a fascination with making money. They have an uncanny ability to look at data from which they can form unique insights. Ultimately, they evaluate decisions through the prism of profitability.

Your Talent: You have a strong desire for your business to succeed long term, but you focus more on day-to-day activities. Devote time to aligning your daily goals with the future success of your endeavor. Seek partnerships with others who can help you understand the costs and benefits of each activity.